

Check Guarantee

Merchants that offer consumers the ability to pay by multiple payment sources, including traditional checks, have an advantage in expanding their customer base, increasing customer satisfaction, and increasing revenue.

Check Guarantee is a process that allows you to accept checks from your consumer while protecting yourself against fraud. Once you accept a check for payment, the cashier enters the check's information into your credit card terminal. The credit card terminal checks your customer's information to ensure that it does not match any information in a database of known bad check writers, locally and nationally. Within seconds, your sale is complete and your business is safe.

Database files of unpaid checks are updated continuously. However, if a check is authorized by our service but does not clear, we quickly purchase it for the full amount, up to the check limit, so you can increase sales without increasing your risks. The reimbursement process is simple and will improve your cash flow and reduce your administrative expenses.
